FOR BOLES AND FREE SILVER.

The Cleveland Men Had Only a Quarter of the Votes.

STRONG RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

Resolutions Commending the Administration Overwhelmingly Defeated—Governor Boles Heads the Delegation for Iowa.

Dubuque, Ia., May 20. Carrying out the programme formulated yesterday by the leaders of the majority element, the Democratic State convention to-day declared for free silver in the most radical terms, presented ex-Gov. Horace Boles to the Democracy of the nation as a candidate for the Presidential nomination, and instructed the delegates-at-large and the district delegates, three of the latter being adherents of the sound money doctrine, to vote as a unit.

It was the most turbulent convention in the history of the party in this State. Despite the impartiality and fairness of the presiding officer selected by the silverites, the representatives of that element on the floor were disposed to give little quarter to their opponents and there were times when it looked as though the convention would break up in disorder. The majority report of the Committee on Resolutions was barren of any reference to President Cleveland or his administration, while the commendation of the Chief Executive attached to the minority report was voted down by nearly 3 to 1. In a measure, however, this may be taken as due to the fact that it was appended to a sound money resolution; for it was noticeable that the caustic comments upon the administration made by Permanent Chairman Carr evoked but a scant applause from the silver men, while his declaration that the financial policy of the administration was not that of the Democratic party and that the party had been betrayed by its chosen leaders, were received with chilling silence. Ex-Governor Boles heads the delegation to Chicago, and his associates are: Sam B. Evans of Ottumwa, Will A. Wells of Elkader and Lewis T. Genung of Hastings. These are the alternates: Judge A. Van Wagenen of Woodbury, D. B. Stubbs of Jefferson, and Rew C. Daily of Marshall, C. H. Mackey of Sigourney.

The Committee on Organization submitted the name of E. B. Carr, editor of the Manchester Democrat, for permanent chairman, and the nomination was ratified with a shout.

Chairman Carr read a telegram from Minneapolis to the effect that the metropolis of the Northwest would elect a free coinage member of Congress.

Delegates at Large.

Then the convention proceeded to the selection of delegates and alternates at large. Ex-Gov. Boles was accepted by acclamation, and the sound money minority made its test of strength upon the second nomination, pitting Judge Walter I. Babb of Mount Pleasant against S. B. Evans of Ottumwa, a free silver extremist. The ballot gave Evans 649½ to 505½ for his opponent and the gold men gave up the fight.

The business purpose of the convention having been disposed of, ex-Gov. Boles was presented and accorded a tumultuous reception. His remarks were brief and elicited little enthusiasm. He said that in the part he had taken in the present trouble he had been animated by the sole desire to secure for the masses in the State a representation in the convention. He believed before, as he did now, that in many conventions of political parties the voice of the people had been stifled and so far as he was concerned he had been determined that the Democracy of Iowa should speak for itself. It had done so, and he hoped that from this time on they would recognize the fact that the strength of the party rested in the masses.

There was an exodus of delegates simultaneous with the Governor's closing words, and the report of the Committee on Resolutions presented by W. L. Head of Des Moines, was listened to with scant attention. It read as follows:

The Resolutions.

"The Democracy of Iowa in State convention assembled hereby reaffirms its allegiance to the time-honored Democratic doctrine of bimetallism, to the use of both gold and silver as primary money and the coinage of both at a ratio without charge or limit. It is the judgment of this convention that this doctrine of the national Democratic party if fairly and honorable observed requires the constant effort of every loyal Democrat to accomplish the repeal of all laws heretofore enacted through the instrumentality of the Republican party, which do in letter and spirit alike discriminate against silver and in favor of gold; and the substitution therefor of affirmative legislation, which shall restore silver to equal rights with gold in the mints and coinage of the country.

"We hereby affirm as a deliberate conviction of this convention that the act of 1873, in so far as it demonetized silver and established gold as the single unit of value, is a flagrant violation of one of the most important provisions of the constitution of the United States, a violation which every political party ought to condemn, and every good citizen should assist in expunging from the statutes of the republic. We therefore favor the immediate repeal of all laws by which silver was demonetized, and demand its unqualified restoration to the right of full legal tender and final redemption at the ratio of 16 to 1.

A Crisis Reached.

"We recognize the fact that upon this question the country has reached a crisis that can no longer be evaded or postponed. We know that the result of this conflict must be a return to the money of the constitution, or the substitution therefor for all time to come of a standard of values, born of British aristocratic greed, which doubles the purchasing power of money, and reduces by one-half the price of all the great staples of industry. In behalf of the toiling millions of this republic we welcome the conflict and pledge the Democratic party of Iowa to stand by the constitution; to defend the right or to beat back with all its strength every wrongful aggression of the money power of the Old and New Worlds alike, and to aid to the utmost limit of its ability in restoring to ourselves and our posterity the sacred heritage of the financial system bequeathed to the American people by the fathers of the republic; and which was equally fair and just to all citizens, and in this effort we cordially invite the co-operation of all good citizens without reference to political affiliations in the past.

"We hereby enter our most earnest protest against all schemes for the retirement of the non-interest bearing national paper currency, and the substitution therefor of five hundred millions of interest-bearing bonds to become an additional burden upon the producing classes, that now banks may be supplied with interest-bearing capital on which to transact their individual business. And we also protest against the further issuance and sale of government bonds to acquire gold with which to redeem such currency, and demand of the government that the coin of either metal it may possess in strict accord with both the spirit and the letter of the law.

Currency and Labor.

"We denounce as a transparent fallacy the claim that labor can be benefitted by the maintenance of a single gold standard as the basis of our financial system. The experience of all ages and of every country alike demonstrates that a contracted currency invariably compels a contraction of business; the lessening of industrial enterprises; the entered idleness of great numbers of the working classes; and nothing of which the human mind can conceive is more clearly evident than the naked truth that the wages of labor must always be adjusted to and correspond with the prices of labor's products in the markets.

"The delegates at large and district appointed by this convention to represent the State in the national Democratic convention, beginning July 7, 1896, are hereby instructed to vote as a unit as the majority present shall direct on all questions coming before said national convention, for settlement by veto of its delegates, and especially upon all questions relating to the adoption of a platform for the party and the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President and the delegates present in said convention if less than the whole number be present, and to which the State is entitled, are hereby authorized to cast the full vote of the State in accord with their instructions.

Full Faith in Boles.

"Reposing full faith and confidence in the Democracy, patriotism and ability of Horace Boles, formerly governor of the State of Iowa, we hereby declare it to be the bound duty of every patriot in Iowa, without regard to former party affiliations, to use all honorable means to secure his nomination at the Democratic national convention, to be held at Chicago, July 7, 1896, for the high and responsible office of President of the United States, to the end that the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy be preserved and promoted and liberty and prosperity be restored to the great body of the American people. And that any delegates to the national convention this day elected are especially authorized and instructed to place his name in nomination at the Chicago convention."

Interest revived for a while, when Judge Nathaniel French of Fremont, submitted the report of the minority.

The reference to President Cleveland provoked applause mingled with shouts of "No," and hisses, and the uproar was intensified ten-fold when Judge French went on to flay the silverites and to assert that the financial planks of the majority report were a mere straddle framed in the interest of the mine owners. Shouts of "Buncombe" and "Down with him" almost drowned his closing utterances. Judge Van Wagenen made a brief plea for the majority report, and received a quiet hearing, but the excitement of the afternoon reached its climax when the youthful Mayor Vollmer of Davenport attempted to close the debate with a sound money speech in behalf of the "Banner Democratic county of the State" (Scott county.) The pent-up fury burst forth when he warned the delegates that free silver meant the death of the Democratic party, and that the wake would be an unhappy affair.

A Scene of Confusion.

Yells, shouts, hisses, cat-calls, words scarcely fitted for ears polite, and personal allusions continued to make a din that was deafening. Time and again the speaker essayed to continue his remarks, only to encounter a cyclone of opposition. In vain one free silver leader after another pleaded for fair play in the young Mayor's behalf; and equally futile was the protest of the chairman that the good name of the convention and of the Democratic party of the State was at stake. The majority was lost to reason or argument, and with the parting warning that the sound money advocates could not be driven out of the party and that after the Chicago convention the silver advocates would be glad to get under cover and come back to the fold, the Mayor left the platform. When the roll of counties was called the minority report was defeated by a vote of 617½ to 216½. This was a hundred votes short of the actual strength of the convention, but no attempt was made to explain the discrepancy. Against protests shouted from all parts of the hall a motion to indorse the district delegates to Chicago elected in the Congressional convention of the forenoon, and which was intended, to bring them under the operation of the unit rule, was declared carried. Then there was a rush for the open air, and in the midst of the confusion, the convention at 6:10 adjourned sine die.

TILLMAN'S CONVENTION.

Advocates of Free Silver Had Their Own Way in South Carolina—A Recess Taken Until September 1st.

Columbia, S. C., May 21.—The advocates of the white metal within the ranks of the Democracy of South Carolina won out in the state convention to-day, and the delegates elected to the Chicago convention will work and vote in favor of free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

The convention was called to order at noon in the state capitol by Senator Irby, chairman of the state central committee. I. H. McCalla was elected temporary chairman and A. H. Patterson was made the permanent presiding officer. Patterson's speech was in favor of free silver.

The usual committees were appointed and a recess was had at 1:30 p. m. until 8 o'clock.

Upon reassembling the committee on resolutions reported. The platform favors free silver at 16 to 1, and calls on the President to carry out the action of Congress on the Cuban question.

The following delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention were then elected: Senator Tillman, Governor Evans, W. H. Ellerbee and D. J. Bradham.

Senator Tillman and Governor Evans both made speeches, the former denouncing the President and Northern Democrats, and the latter advocated Tillman's candidacy for the Presidency.

Senator Irby, speaking in his capacity of chairman of the Democracy of the state, warned the reform faction against bolt, and predicted ruin to the party in the state, and not only to white supremacy but white civilization as the breach would be made a permanent one. He said the whole trouble was that the party was good enough to elect Tillman governor twice, and to the Senate, but was not good enough to elect him President.

Senator Tillman was bitter in his reply, and ascribed Irby's attack on him to his (Irby's) fear for his re-election. To this Irby, who was seated at a short distance, gave the lie direct. Tillman's manner was lost in the confusion of cheers and counter cheers which followed.

A few minutes after 2 a. m. the convention took a recess until September first. This is to allow the convention to assemble in case the South Carolina delegation along with others bolt the national convention.

SOUTH DAKOTA DEMOCRATS.

Sound Money Men Won in the State Convention.

Aberdeen, S. D., May 20.—To Chairman James Woods of the Democratic state central committee must be attributed the victory of sound money in the State convention. He has been an indefatigable worker in the cause of gold, and his he would swing South Dakota into line has been fulfilled. He controlled the action of the state central committee in choosing S. A. Ramsey, of Woonsocket, an administration man, chairman instead of W. A. Lynch, of Huron, and it was his powerful influence that dominated in the fight.

After the appointment of committees the convention adjourned to 7:30 p. m.

This evening the temporary organization was made permanent without opposition. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the administration and declaring for the present standard. A free silver substitute was offered but voted down by a majority of 57.

DEMOCRATS SPLIT.

Illinois Gold Men Will Begin Their Contest Without Further Delay.

Chicago, May 20.—As was expected by the "sound money" Democrats of Cook county, the silver majority at a meeting to-day of the executive committee and the committee on contests, primaries and appeals of the county central committee, refused to make any concessions to the manner of holding the primaries next Monday, the publication of the convention call and the primary polling places, or as to accepting any of the names of the judges and clerks submitted by the gold standard men. The minority at the joint meeting insisted on the regular judges and clerks being taken from the election committee's lists for services at the primaries. The Sound Money league will meet to-morrow with the politicians who are on their side, and formally decide on a plan of action in view of the intention of the party machine to hold what is said will be "brace" primaries in the interest of free silver and Altgeld. It is pretty well settled that separate primaries will be ordered and a contesting delegation sent to the State and national conventions.

Renominated for Congress.

Hartford, City, Ind., May 20.—The Republicans of the Eighth Congressional district to-day renominated Hon. Charles L. Henry for Congress by acclamation. They also declared for McKinley and protection.

TESTIMONY OF DR. DIAZ.

Atrocity of Spanish Rule in the Island of Cuba.

Washington, May 20.—Dr. Albert Diaz and newspaper correspondent Lawrence, who were expelled from Cuba, were before the Foreign Relations committee this afternoon. Dr. Diaz's testimony referred principally to the atrocity of Spanish rule in the island. He compared from personal experience the insurgent and Spanish methods of warfare, greatly to the advantage of the Cubans.

Among the incidents he mentioned the long imprisonment of a lady in Havana whose only offense is being suspected of sympathy with the insurgent cause, and the imprisonment of children as rebel sympathizers." His details are in full accord with hundreds of others about the results of Spanish war measures in the Island, and he begs Congress for humanity's and civilization's sake to stop the existing evils.

Shot By His Wife.

Chicago, May 20.—Dr. Thomas Renn, a prominent physician whose home is at 27 Townsend street, was shot and dangerously wounded to-day by his wife at Elm and Townsend streets. She lay in wait for him to come from his office and after a few words had passed, she drew a revolver from her dress. She fired two bullets, both entering the Doctor's head. When he fell the enraged woman fired three more shots, one of which pierced the prostrate husband's leg. Then she ran and escaped. The couple separated a year ago and a divorce suit is pending. Mrs. Renn is accused of being jealous and suspicious, while she charges his family with bringing about the separation, after the Doctor had fallen heir to $25,000, and graduated a year ago.

Mrs. Renn had also been beaten in real estate litigation following the separation. Each is 25 years old. The Doctor's recovery is doubtful.

Murder and Suicide.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 20. Charles M. England, a young attorney, who resided in East Los Angeles, killed his wife last night and then committed suicide, the bodies of both being found to-day. England came from Arkansas and was indicted by a grand jury in that state a short time ago for a forgery. He had cleared himself of the charge. He shot his wife through the temple as she lay asleep on the bed, and sat down and wrote several letters to relatives and friends and a will, disposing of his few possessions. He then lay down by his wife's body and shot himself.

Two Murderers Executed.

Brenham, Tex., May 20.—John Rutherford and his son, Brody Rutherford, and Joe Goodsell, were executed in the presence of 20,000 persons, half a mile east of here to-day for the murder of Thomas Dwyer on Jan. 23. They were taken from the jail at 1 o'clock and carried to the scaffold under a heavy guard. The drop fell at 2:10, and all of their necks were broken. They were cut down in 25 minutes.

They all protested their innocence to the end and declared that they were going straight to heaven.

Gales on the English Coast.

London, May 20.—Violent gales have prevailed along all the coasts, and the shipping at Hull has suffered considerably.

A quantity of wreckage of a three-masted schooner was washed ashore at Castle bay, Hebrides, this afternoon, and later the body of a young man was washed ashore at Port Patrick, on the southwest coast of Scotland. It is probable that the schooner would have carried a crew of ten men, all of whom are presumably lost.

Located by X Rays.

Denver, May 20.—At the Homeopathic hospital yesterday afternoon a bullet which was accidentally lodged in William Gordon's arm two months ago was successfully located by means of X rays and was extracted. It took just five and one-quarter minutes to locate the ball and remove it, the operation being participated in and witnessed by a number of surgeons and students.

A Delayed Steamer.

San Francisco, May 20.—The overdue steamship Czarina finally reached port this morning.

Though the voyage from Pensacola, Fla., occupied an unusual length of time, the vessel at no time was in any great danger. The delay was caused by leaking boilers and a general poor condition of the machinery.

A Strike Ended.

Cleveland, May 20. On condition that all hands be taken back and with the offer of the Globe Iron company to give the men a substantial advance in wages, 1,000 strikers who have been idle for 10 days returned to work at the shipyards to-day.

Gold Reserve.

Washington, May 20.—The treasury gold reserve at the close of business to-day stood at $111,870,356. The day's withdrawals were $640,300, of which $500,000 was for export.

Recognized as Consul.

Washington, May 20.—The President has recognized A. J. Balliet as consul of Salvador at Seattle, Wash.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Fortifications Bill Was Passed by the Senate.

IMMIGRATION BILL PASSED.

An Outbreak In the Republican Ranks Against the Management of the Majority in the House—Chief Provisions of McCall Bill.

Washington, May 20.—The last but one of the general appropriation bills—the one which provides for fortifications and other works of defense—occupied the attention of the Senate to-day, and was passed before adjournment. It carries nearly eleven millions of dollars, about five millions more than it carried when it passed the House. The principal item of increase is one of $3,115,000 for gun and mortar batteries.

There was little or no controversy over any of the provisions considered in the bill, but a rather important discussion was precipitated by an amendment offered to the bill by Mr. Gorman of Maryland. This proposes to authorize the issue of one hundred millions of treasury certificates of indebtedness, bearing 3 per cent. interest, in order to meet the expenditures called for by the appropriation bills of the present session, the aggregate of which Mr. Gorman put at six hundred millions.

The amendment was opposed by Mr. Sherman of Ohio, who declared that never before had such a proposition been made to meet the current expenses of the government in a time of profound peace, and who argued that the proper course for the Senate to pursue was to take up the tariff bill passed by the House in the early part of the session, leave off the free silver amendment, which the Senate had attached to it, and then pass it with such additions as might be deemed wise, including a tax on tea and coffee. He said that he would tear up all the appropriation bills rather than make such a confession of bankruptcy.

Mr. Gorman argued that the deficiency in the treasury could not be met in any other way than that which he proposed. At the close of the discussion the amendment was laid on the table by a vote of 42 to 9.

Earlier in the day a conference report on the river and harbor bill was presented by Mr. Frye of Maine, and an effort was made by him to get immediate action on it. That was resisted, however, by Mr. Bacon of Georgia, who had learned that the appropriation for the harbor at Brunswick, Georgia, had been struck out in conference, and who wanted time to argue the matter before the Senate. And so Mr. Frye rather reluctantly consented to have the report go over till to-morrow.

The only question that was not settled in conference is the one relating to the deep sea harbor in southern California. In the preliminary discussion there was some sharp criticism at the disposition of the Senators to adjourn Congress without attending to the grave and important questions requiring action.

At 6 p. m. the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Washington, May 20.—The House disposed of the immigration question to-day by passing the McCall educational test bill, together with the Corliss bill, intended to protect the lake cities from Canadian competition. The latter was agreed to 121 to 46, and the amended bill was passed—195 to 26. A record of the vote by yeas and nays was refused only 35 members rising to second the demand by Mr. Fitzgerald (Dem.) of Massachusetts therefor. The consular inspection bill, proposed by Mr. W. A. Stone, (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, was rejected—75 to 131. He, too, was unable to get a vote of record. The debate on the question was participated in by Messrs. Wilson, (Dem., of South Carolina, and Danforth, (Rep.) of Ohio, in support of all the bills; by Messrs. McCall, Massachusetts, and Bartholdt, (Rep.) of Missouri, in support of the educational test bill, and by Messrs Mahany, (Rep.) of New York, and Hendrick, (Dem.) of Kentucky, against any additional restrictions.

The continuation of the debate was preceded by a sensational outbreak in the Republican ranks against the management of the majority. It was precipitated by the presentation of an order from the committee on rules by Mr. Henderson, (Rep.) of Iowa, setting aside Thursday and Friday (private bill day under the rules), for the consideration of the measures reported from the committee on labor. It was opposed by Mr. Walker, (Rep.) of Massachusetts, Pickler, (Rep.) of South Dakota, chairman of the committee on invalid pensions, and Mahon, (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee on war claims, who protested against depriving the House of opportunity to consider and dispose of bills on the private calendar.

Mr. Walker vehemently denounced the "leaders," and asserted that their reign would come to an end with this Congress; that in the next House rules would be adopted by which business could be transacted in accordance therewith, or nothing would be done. He condemned in bitter terms the policy which prevented the government from paying its honest debts, denouncing it as a shame and disgrace, such as no other country in the world labored under, and asserted that the same policy had been pursued in all the Congresses of which he had been a member, by desire of the leaders. "Although I have been a member of Congress for eight years," he exclaimed, "I get no more consideration than a dog."

Mr. Mahon gave notice that in the next session of Congress no bills would be passed by unanimous consent; that they must all take their chances on the consideration of calendars.

The management of the House was defended by Messrs. Cannon, (Rep.) of Illinois, Henderson, (Rep.) of Iowa, and Dalzell, (Rep.) of Pennsylvania. While the latter was speaking, Mr. Walker interrupted him to say, "that demagogy won't go," whereupon Mr. Dalzell retorted, white with passion, "I will not suffer myself to be interrupted by the impudence of the gentleman from Massachusetts."

Mr. Mahon's motion to recommit the order with instructions to give the Committee on Labor next Tuesday instead of Friday was defeated and the order adopted.

President Cleveland's message vetoing the bill to pension Lydia A. Taft, the "divorced widow" of a deceased soldier, was read and referred.

The McCall bill as passed amends the immigration and contract labor acts by adding to the classes of aliens thereby excluded from the United States all male persons between 16 and 60 years of age, who cannot both read and write the English or some other language, but no person of a person now living in or hereafter admitted to this country, shall be excluded because of his inability to read and write. The bill also provides that it shall be unlawful for any alien who resides or retains his home in a foreign country to enter the United States to engage in mechanical trade or manual labor while retaining his home in a foreign country, though aliens may come for the purpose of teaching new arts or industries under such rules as may be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury. It is also made unlawful for any company or corporation to employ such aliens in any mechanical trade or manual labor, though this provision does not affect employes of vessels or railroads whose duties require them to pass over the frontier to reach the termini of their roads. Aliens, excepting subjects of Canada and other American countries, are not allowed to enter the United States except at places where the United States maintains an immigrant inspection board.

At 4:55 the House adjourned until to-morrow.

FROM CRIPPLE CREEK.

A Good Strike Has Been Made on the Free Coinage Group.

Special to The Gazette:

Cripple Creek, May 20.—What looks to be a very good strike has just been made on the Free Coinage group on Bull hill within the town limits of Altman. The strike was made on the Pinto claim, which is being worked under a lease. Considerable surface prospecting had been done, and at a depth of three or four feet a big body of quartz showing free gold in abundance was uncovered. It has not been sufficiently developed as yet to determine whether this is a new and heretofore unknown vein, or whether it is an extension of the Pharmacist vein. The lessees are very jubilant over the new find, and believe that they soon will have plenty of good ore.

A very good strike is reported to have recently been made on school lot No. 16 on the southeast slope of Mt. Pisgah. This lot is being developed by J. B. Farlow of Cripple Creek, who recently sent a shipment of 500 pounds to the mill for a test. It returned values of from $70 to $80 per ton. An assay on a streak of talc in the vein went $41.80. The vein is four and a half feet wide and lies between phonolite and granite walls. The shaft is only 40 feet deep.

Mr. B. F. Black, who is working the south end of the Lottie, on Bull hill, has again come into good ore. The shaft was sunk to a depth of 50 feet some time ago, but the ore was lost. Work was continued, however, in a small way, and ore has again been found. There is a good streak in the vein from which the lessees recently made a trial shipment which showed the high values of $55 per ton.

HUNDREDS WERE DROWNED.

Details of a Recent Collision in Chinese Waters.

San Francisco, Cal., May 20.—The steamer Belgic, which arrived to-day from Hong Kong and Yokohama with advices up to May 5, brought letters from the crews of the American warships at Woo Sung concerning the collision between the Indo-China line steamer Onwo and the coasting vessel New Chwang. The boats of the American navy were instrumental in saving the lives of about 50 Chinese and two Europeans. Seventy-seven souls in all were saved, and 250 lives were lost. Only seven of these were white men.

The accident occurred at 3 o'clock in the morning of April 30. The Onwo, Capt. Johns, was outbound for Hankow, and the New Chwang inbound from the south. The former craft was struck on the port side, and sank in about seven minutes. The Chinese passengers went wild with excitement, many jumping into the sea, while others huddled together on the bow of the vessel, and were drowned like rats.

The captain of the New Chwang sent his vessel ahead and ran her on the beach, but lowered no boats. The crews of the Olympia and others of the Asiatic squadron, United States navy, dropped their boats over the sides of their ships, and in less than 15 minutes after the accident, there were at least a dozen American cutters at the scene of the disaster, saving drowning men, and recovering bodies. Corpses floated everywhere on the water, and for several days after the accident they drifted ashore.

The Belgic brought no news of Lieut. Commander Sturdy's alleged court martial, nor was the matter mentioned in letters.

ORIENTAL NEWS.

China's New Loan Finally Given to Great Britain and Germany.

San Francisco, May 20.—Correspondence of the United Press per Steamer Belgic.)—Tokio, Japan, May 6.—The details of the negotiations carried on in Pekin for China's second loan of 100,000,000 taels, show that, in the end, England and Germany were united against France and Russia. The loan had been distinctly promised to England by the Chinese government, but the terms offered by the Hong Kong and Shanghai bank, on behalf of itself, the Deutsch-Asiatische bank, and a London syndicate headed by the Rothschilds, were neither liberal nor firm at 5 per cent. loan at a minimum price of 89½, the bank to receive 5 per cent. commission and the Chinese to reap the full benefit of any subscription over and above 89½.

Seeing that the 4 per cent. loan made by Russia and Japan had been at 92, the Chinese thought this Anglo-German offer too dear. But the bank would make no reduction. At last negotiations were broken off, and the Tsung-Li Yamen found itself inundated with proposals from other quarters, among them being an American offer of a silver loan in terms of gold at a fixed ratio. The most favorable proposal, however, came from France, backed by Russia, and it might have been accepted had not the Emperor and Empress dowager, despite the urging of Li Hung Chang, objected to pledging China more deeply to France, and had not the proposal been accompanied by irksome conditions; for example, that the control of the customs, the revenues from which constitute the security for the loan, should be placed in French hands, and that the work of building railways in the southern provinces of China should be entrusted to France.

At the eleventh hour Sir Robert Hart, inspector general of customs, was called in. He induced the bank to make a final offer of a 5 per cent. loan at 94, the bank paying itself out of the subscriptions over and above the minimum issue price.

The Korean officials, members of the recently overthrown government, who were for some time under trial for complicity in the murder of the Queen, have been sentenced, one to death, four to exile for life, and others to exile for terms ranging from one to fifteen years.

Competition is keen among foreign projectors of railways in Korea. An American syndicate having set the example by obtaining a concession to build a road from Seoul to Chemulpo, the most paying route of all, French capitalists, backed by Russian influence, are seeking a similar concession for the line between Seoul and Gensan, while Japanese merchants are offering to build a road from Seoul to Fusan, where their principal settlement is.

The journals of the opposition in Japan do not approve the idea of an entente between Russia and Japan for the purpose of preserving order in Korea. They foresee that Russia will gradually get the upper hand, and will elbow her ally out of the peninsula altogether.

Armour's Men at Work.

Kansas City, May 20.—Armour's striking firemen compromised their differences to-day on an increase of 1½ cents an hour for eight hours and they with the 1,000 or more employes who were laid off for lack of work will return to the plant to-morrow.

COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL.

A Fine Showing Made by Both in the Field Sports.

THE COLLEGE WAS THE WINNER.

Closing Contested Races With Exciting Finishes—Colorado Springs Will Be Well Represented in the State Contests Soon to be Held.

The field-day sports of the College and High School yesterday were the finest athletics that have ever been seen in this city. The events were well-contested, good records were made, considering the slow track, and two of the races, the 220 yards and the quarter-mile, were sensational in their finishes, and as close as it is possible for races to be. On the totals, the College won by 45 points to 37. The result of one race different—the relay,—would have given the score to the High School instead of the College. When scores are as close as this, there is no lack of interest possible.

The first contest, which was called about 3:15, was the 100-yard dash, in which Lockhart, Noble, Brayton and Spicer finished in the order mentioned. Lockhart won rather easily, but the struggle for second place was very close.

Jumping and Vaulting.

When the high jump was called, the College men entered did not show up, so the two High School contestants went on and gave an exhibition. Berrey did 5 feet 1, and Russell 5 feet even.

The pole vault was one of the prettiest contests of the day, and took a much longer time than any other. Ingraham and Helmquist were entered from the College and Berrey and Johnson from the High School. All went over the tape at 8 feet 6. At 8 feet 9, Berrey was the only one to go over on the first try, and both Ingraham and Johnson failed in three trials; but Helmquist got over on his second. At 9 feet, both made it beautifully. A notch higher sent the tape to 9 feet 3. Berrey made it on his second try, but Helmquist could do no more.

The College came to the front again in putting the shot, Packard did 37 feet, Noble 35 feet 8, and Russell, for the school, 32 feet 3. Ehrich and Rogers also competed.

The Relay Race.

Then came the relay race, which was expected to be the prettiest race of the day, but Courter bungled his heat so badly that the College won rather easily. Noble beat Brayton a few feet at the first transfer, Jaehne got away ahead of Courter, and kept his lead on Strachan, and Lockhart maintained the advantage, and beat Spicer in by about 30 yards. The race would have been more satisfactory to the spectators if each side had run the same number of men. The College had an advantage, as it turned out, in running only three men instead of four, for the time lost in transferring amounted to a good deal more than any delay through tiring the runners. In fact, most of those who ran can do 150 yards in fully as good time proportionately as 100. The winners made splendid time 1 3-5. Considering the track, which is poor, and the transfer of rings hand to hand, this is excellent work.

In the next event, the standing broad jump, the College entered only one man, Packard, but he won it, with Rogers second and Russell third. The winner's jump was 9 feet 8, and Rogers made 9 feet 5.

The hammer throw proved to be one of the closest contests of the day, there being only one foot five inches between first and third. The result was a surprise for the College, for Brayton won, with a throw of 73 feet 3, Packard was second, with 78 feet 11; and Carlson third, with 77 feet 2. Russell did 73 feet.

220-Yard Dash.

Next came the 220 yard dash, with Brayton and Spicer in for the School and Noble and Jaehne for the College. It looked like a cinch for the College, for Brayton had just won the hammer throw; but it proved to be the closest and most exciting race ever seen on the grounds. At 100 yards, Jaehne and Brayton were running neck and neck in front, and Noble and Spicer neck and neck about three yards back. Coming into the finish Brayton drew slightly ahead. Jaehne could not quite catch him, but there was only about a yard between them at the finish, and the result was in doubt almost until the tape was struck. Noble and Spicer were even closer for third place, the former getting it by a nose. It was a great race, and everybody stood up and yelled as the flying runners came down the home stretch.

The College entries in the hurdle race drew out, and the points were given to the High School without a run off.

The running broad jump showed what is probably the best comparative record of the day. Lockhart did 19 feet 1, Packard 19 feet ½ inch, and Rogers was third with 17 feet 2. Lockhart and Packard will stand a good chance of coming in first at the State contest in this event.

A Great Quarter Mile.

The last race was the quarter-mile, in which Jaehne was "fancied" by the losing one, as he was said to have done the distance in 52, which is State record time. He was fresher than either Lockhart or Brayton. Vest was fresh, too, and he started out that way, far in the lead. Behind him came Jaehne and Rogers, running side by side, and right behind Jaehne was Brayton, and right behind him, Lockhart. In this order they ran till the back stretch, where Vest gave out, and Jaehne, followed by Brayton and Lockhart, began to make their struggle. Vest and Rogers were soon in the rear. Brayton gained on Jaehne at every stride, and came up on even terms into the home stretch they came, neck and neck. Brayton was evidently tiring, but so was Jaehne, and neither of them knew that any one else was near. Neither did the crowd, until the last half second, when Lockhart came up with a rush and passed both of them within five yards of the tape, and won the race by a yard, making one of the most sensational victories ever seen. Brayton beat Jaehne by 4 feet for second place. It was a splendid race, and all the runners deserve credit for the way they ran it.

Summing the Results.

This ended the proceedings. It took some time to figure up results, but they were finally announced to be, College, 45; High School, 37. How they made it this way was not perfectly clear; but on the main point that the College had won there was no doubt, nor on the next most important thing, that the High School had made a splendid struggle.

Of the individual scores, Lockhart had 15, with three firsts; Packard 12, with two firsts and two seconds; Brayton 13, with two firsts, one second and one third; and Berrey 10, with two firsts. If the hurdles had been run, Berrey would have had 15 if he had won.

Both teams are encouraged by the result, and feel good hopes of showing up well in their respective contests with other institutions.

The intercollegiate field day will be in this city, at the Roswell grounds, on Saturday. The interscholastic field day will be at Denver on June 5 or 6.

Caught in the Cyclone.

Mrs. Dora R. Pratt, wife of the Unitarian minister in this city, has written her husband concerning her experience in the fearful cyclone that swept northeastern Kansas on Sunday night. She says that the day had been oppressive, and early in the evening it commenced to rain. While the rain was pouring in torrents it suddenly changed to hail, and in a few moments the cyclone came. It was funnel-shaped and came from the southwest. Its track was about 200 yards wide, and it swept everything in its path. Leaving everything in the way of valuables, she says they had barely time to escape to the cellar, taking blankets and pillows as a protection. Thinking the worst over, they ventured after a time to come out, only to be driven back again by the wildness of the storm.

While shade trees were torn up by the roots, and houses smashed into kindling wood, within a few blocks of her brother's home, fortunately his house stood, and they all escaped unhurt.

A number were killed in Sabetha and the surrounding country, and in the town some forty houses were destroyed. The night was a frightful one, and she thinks she has had all the experience she desires with Kansas cyclones.

MR. BUCKMAN RETURNS.

Eastern Business Is Out of Joint—New Enterprise in the Pecos.

Mr. George Rex Buckman returned yesterday from a three months' visit in the East, having spent the time principally in Chicago, Milwaukee, Philadelphia and New York. To a Gazette man Mr. Buckman said last night:

"Business conditions throughout the East are about as unsatisfactory as at any time in recent years. Manufacturers in most lines are losing heavily, general merchandise business is suffering from dry rot, and about the only mercantile establishments making any money are the big department stores, which are able to take large stocks of goods from weak manufacturers or jobbers, sell them at 60 cents on the dollar and make their profit. Even the bicycle business is not as good as might be expected, owing to enormous competition and a less demand than was counted on. About the most prosperous business I found was sugar refining, and even this is being affected by the Cuban war. Most people in business wish they were out of it; and the capitalist, instead of putting his money in to enterprises for the development of the country, as in normal times, is either hunting for high class gold bonds with the idea only of absolute security, or else he is building enormous business blocks and sky scrapers that are going up on all sides in the large Eastern cities, and principally in New York. The amount of this building now in progress in New York is simply prodigious, and at first sight might indicate a prosperous state of affairs; but a closer view shows that it is only an outlet for the vast accumulations of idle capital resulting from general business stagnation, and which it is believed can be most safely invested in this way.

"The East is divided in opinion as to the cause of the trouble. Many think it is the tariff, but a large part believe it is to be found in the fear of silver. Aside from the free trade contingent the general belief, at least in the large Eastern cities, seems to be that the election of a Republican President upon a platform of protection and 'sound money,' whatever that may be, will usher in a period of great prosperity.

"I found the East pretty well posted about Cripple Creek, thanks to the splendid advertising our brokers and others have given the camp; and the relation to it of Colorado Springs is also well understood. The prolonged slump in the mining stock market, followed by the Cripple Creek fire, has, of course, checked speculation and to some extent the growth of the interest in our gold camp. But I believe this will be only temporary; and since the eyes of the country have been turned this way, the response to improving conditions both here and throughout the country generally will be rapid and widespread. I believe there will be a very large number of visitors this summer, though not so large as was anticipated some months ago.

"While I was East the money was raised for the building of a beet sugar factory in the Pecos Valley, and I was able to interest some of the foremost Eastern sugar refiners in the enterprise. The factory, which is already in course of erection at Eddy, will have a capacity of 250 tons of beets per day, and will produce from 7,000,000 to 9,000,000 pounds of refined granulated sugar in a season. It will be in operation by Nov. 1, and fully 2,500 acres of beets are now being planted in the valley to supply it. It was gratifying to learn that the sugar refiners of the East are generally firm believers in beet sugar, many expressing the conviction that this is bound to become one of the very great industries of the United States. They were greatly impressed with the exceptional advantages afforded by the Pecos Valley for a large development of this industry.

"Weather? The East has its charms, but among these its climate certainly cannot be included. I experienced the usual amount of rainy, sticky weather, and also two insufferably hot spells, that in April lasting about ten days during which the thermometer frequently rose to 94 in the shade. I had forgotten it could be so hot. Since our Colorado climate cannot be demoralized, we will surely have in it an unfailing source of wealth for all time to come."

TO REFORM THE SENATE.

This Congress May Vote on a Long Pending Measure.

BY DIRECT VOTE OF THE PEOPLE

Senator Palmer's Story—Prospects of Adjournment of Congress—President Cleveland Wants It "Off His Hands."

WASHINGTON, May 20. [Special.]—Before the session comes to an end Senator Mitchell of Oregon, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, hopes to secure a vote on the proposed constitutional amendment providing for election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. This reform has been gaining strength in the senate year after year and is likely to pass, if not at this session, then at the next. The haste for adjournment may prevent a test vote at this time. That this change in our constitution will be effected within a few years many of the ablest men in public life believe. In conversation on this score a few days ago Vice President Stevenson said he felt sure congress would ere long submit the question to the states, and he was equally sure that the necessary number of states, or two-thirds, would indorse it.

Power of Small States.

The vice president, while not submitting to an interview, thought it also possible the people would ere many years have passed insist upon electing their president by direct vote of the people too. This is not regarded as being so desirable a change as that in the manner of choosing senators. One of the fundamental ideas of the framers of our government was to give the states equal power in the senate and an approximation to equal power in the electoral college. At that time no one was able to foresee that we were to have states with 7,000,000 of population and other states with less than 50,000 population. Probably such a thing was not dreamed of by the wise men who framed our constitution. But it has come to pass. Nevada, for instance, with less than 50,000 population, has equal voice with New York in the senate and one-twelfth New York's strength in the electoral college, though its population is only about one one-hundred-and-twenty-fifth part that of New York's. A proposition to elect presidents by plurality vote of all the people would doubtless be resisted by all the smaller states, for it would deprive them of much of the political importance which they now enjoy. The smaller states, like Rhode Island, Nevada, Delaware, Idaho, Utah, Montana and others, are numerous enough to defeat the adoption of any such constitutional amendment should it be proposed.

Senator Palmer's Story.

Senator Palmer of Illinois is the story teller of the upper branch of congress. The aged senator, who is now rounding out his half century of public service, rarely makes a speech without telling at least one story. In his address on the financial question a few days ago he combatted the idea that this is the first time we have had low prices for farm products in this country. He admitted prices were lower than they should be, but asked the senate to pardon him while he related a personal experience.

"Many years ago," said the white haired veteran, "while, as a young man, I was practicing law at Springfield, in my state, a man owed me a bill of $34 for legal services rendered. Times were hard and money scarce, and he asked me if he might not pay the debt in corn, which was then selling at 10 cents a bushel. I told him he might. He asked me where he should put the corn, for he wished to deliver it that day, and I pointed to a little crib in the back part of my lot and told him to put it in there. Then I went away to court. On my return home in the evening my wife told me to go out and see what a nice lot of corn we had in our crib. I went out, but I could not find the crib. It was not only full of corn, but had been completely buried in corn until it was out of sight, and till that moment I had not realized how much corn you can buy with $34 when the price is only 10 cents a bushel."

Prospects of Adjournment.

Though next Monday is the day which was set in the house resolution for the adjournment of congress till next fall, it is clear the adjournment will not take place on that day. The senate is dragging along, and no one is able to say just how many more days it will want to sit. For some time disquieting rumors have been in circulation. It is known that the silver Republicans from the far west and the Populistic senators would like to keep congress here till after the St. Louis convention shall have met and made its platform. These senators want a chance to discuss that platform. In other words, they feel the currency plank to be adopted at St. Louis is not going to be satisfactory to them, and they wish a chance to debate it before the country, to raise a disturbance, and perhaps promote the split which the more extreme of them threaten to make in the Republican ranks.

One idea they have is that such a debate will exert great influence upon the Democratic convention to meet at Chicago three weeks later, where the silver men will make their last rally. It is not as yet probable that this scheme to delay adjournment will succeed, because it is understood the leading men of the two old parties in the senate are agreed that the last day of the session shall be not later than two weeks hence. But surprises may be in store for them. In a body like the senate, which runs along practically without rules and in which there is no power to limit debate almost anything is possible.

President Cleveland is exceedingly anxious for an early adjournment. He wants to get "congress off his hands" as soon as possible. The general expectation in well informed circles is that the president intends taking some more radical step concerning the Cuban question, but that he first wants to get congress out of the way.

A cruel story to the effect that General Maximo Gomez, the general in chief of the Cuban armies, had turned traitor and sold himself out to Spain was put in circulation a short time ago. Of course it was false. The story proves on investigation to have been sent out from this city by a newspaper correspondent who obtained his alleged information at the Spanish legation in this city. Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister here, has shown himself to be an adept in working the American press, though so far as is known only one correspondent was imposed upon by his transparent slander upon the good name of the patriot Gomez, who at last accounts was bravely fighting against the infidels.

Dangers From the Wheel.

One of the nuisances of life in the capital of the nation is the bicycle. Washington is cycle mad even more so than any other city in the country, which is saying a great deal. It is estimated by people in the trade that a larger number of bicycles is used here in proportion to population than in any other city in the world. One is quite willing to believe the dealers are correct when he attempts to walk upon a Washington street. Wheels are flying in every direction and in such great numbers that to cross a crowded thoroughfare without accident requires a steady nerve and well balanced head. All the streets here are paved with the smooth asphalt, over which a bicycle makes no more noise than a fly walking on the ceiling, and pedestrians need as many eyes as Argus had in order to avoid the fast flying steel steeds.

The smooth streets are a constant temptation to the cyclists. They feel like scorching all the time, and probably there is more fast riding here than in any other city of the country. Some weeks ago the authorities concluded to enforce the bicycle regulations without fear or favor, so they issued orders to the police that there should be no more fast riding within the city, no more riding without bells by day or lighted lamps by night, no more coasting down the hills, no more riding three or more cyclists abreast and no more riding without the hands upon the handle bars. For a time the police attempted in good faith to enforce these regulations, but it was only a temporary affair. Now the cyclists are at it again as before rushing to and fro regardless of life or limb, riding with their hands behind their backs, coasting down the hills which surround the city and darting around the streets at night without lamps upon their wheels. There are many minor accidents, but not until a few people are killed outright will there be another and more earnest effort to enforce the law.

Result of the Crusade.

One of the results of the recent crusade was rather comical and certainly very annoying. When the police issued orders that every wheel must be provided with a bell, large numbers of wheelmen provided themselves with gongs and cow bells and went up and down the streets in battalions, making the air ring with their discordant sounds. For a week or two the cow bells and gongs were a horrible nuisance in peaceful Washington, and the people were ready to petition the authorities to repeal the regulation requiring bells to be attached to all wheels. This was just what the wheelmen wanted, and the result has been that by common consent the bell ordinance is no longer strictly enforced.

A majority of the wheelmen here claim that a bell is a source of danger instead of being a protection to pedestrians. Every one that rides knows that when approaching a pedestrian the ringing of the bell is likely to produce nervousness, hesitation as to whether to go forward, stand still or turn back. Women are especially liable to this trouble, for when the average woman hears a bell ringing she imagines danger threatens and that she is called upon to do something in order to save her life. Nine times out of ten she stops, turns backward, and then changes her mind and concludes to go on. Right here is where the danger comes in. She does the unexpected, and the wheelman is unable to arrange his course accordingly. When he starts to dart behind her, thinking she is going on, she backs into his path. On the other hand, if he concludes she is going to step back and tries to go in front of her, she changes her mind at the critical moment and proceeds on her original course, which increases the chances of accident.

Advice to Pedestrians.

Expert wheelmen and wheelwomen say there is little danger of accidents to pedestrians if the latter will only go straight along about their business, turning neither to the right nor the left, and not retracing their steps. It is the business of the cyclist to keep out of the way of pedestrians, and this he is easily able to do, no matter how thick the crowd, if the pedestrians keep their courses and do not stop.

The wheeling craze has been a good thing for the colored men in Washington in that it gives many of them employment. Colored men are favorites as teachers, and also as professional escorts. In and about the city one may see scores of fashionable young women riding along with a smart colored youth either at their sides or trailing respectfully in the rear, watching the performance of his mistress, ready at any moment to spring to her assistance.

HE WASN'T A DUDE.

And Didn't Want Gas When the Woman Dentist Pulled His Tooth.

The pioneer woman dentist of New York is Mrs. Phillippine Dieffenbach. Although not a graduate of any institution, she has practiced dentistry for 30 years, her knowledge having been gained in assisting her husband. So proficient did she become that after his death she took up his practice and was eventually elected an honorary member of the New York College of Dentistry.

Mrs. Dieffenbach complains of the treatment accorded her by her male competitors and voices the opinions of her fellow female dentists when she says that they are discourteous in the extreme.

These women have some queer experiences with their male patients. This is what one of them says:

"The first man who ever came into my hands fairly frightened me to death. He couldn't have been less than 6 feet tall and was broad in proportion. In a basso profundo voice he demanded the extraction of a double tooth. Timidly I asked him whether he would take it with or without.' With a glance of deep disgust, he said, 'I always take mine straight.' After I had explained to him that my inquiry meant did he want gas, he became still more indignant.

"'Do I look like a dizzy dude?' he queried sarcastically.

"Then I got him into the chair, and he weakened. At the sight of the forceps he qualled, and when I asked him to open his mouth his teeth chattered so that he couldn't move his jaws. Finally, however, he managed to unclose them, and I promptly inserted a plug that put him completely at my mercy. By this time the perspiration was standing out on his forehead from fright. 'Go gently, please,' he managed to ejaculate. 'My heart is weak and the doctors say that pain is the worst thing in the world for my complaint, and I have a large family too.'

"Well, I got the tooth out with ease before he knew it and had placed it on the table, when he cried: 'Say, I guess I don't want that out, it'll hurt too much. Let me up, please.' I extracted the plug, and then the fact dawned upon him that the operation was over, and he remarked, 'Well, I'll be blessed!' only he didn't say blessed." New York Journal.

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health.

Mrs. R. DeYoung, Middleburg, Iowa, writes: I have used One Minute Cough Cure for six years, both for myself and children, and I consider it the quickest acting and most satisfactory cough cure I have ever used. Colorado Springs Drug Co.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is the question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with.

Children with pale, bluish complexions, indicating the absence of the requisite red globules in the blood, should take Dr. Sawyer's Ukaline.

Experience and money cannot improve Dr. Sawyer's Family Cure, because it radically cures dyspepsia, liver complaint and kidney difficulty.

Dear Sir: I can say with pleasure that I have been using your medicine, and will recommend it to all suffering ladies.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Since the nomination of Grant there has never been such unanimity in the Republican party, previous to a national convention as to the best man for Presidential candidate. When there is a unanimity like this, there is always a great central idea behind it. At the time of Grant's nomination, this idea was the maintenance of the results of the war, by the continued supremacy of the Federal government. At this time, it is the maintenance of American interests, and especially of that protection to American citizens and American industries with which Mr. McKinley has got himself identified beyond any other Republican.

Of course McKinley is a popular man, personally. He is sincere, straightforward dignified, able, pure in all his political and personal relations, but it is not his own personal popularity which is making the great masses of the Republican party turn to him with such unanimity as the proper candidate for President this year.

The situation this year has been compared to the situation in 1881 and 1884, when Blaine was the idol of so many Republicans. But Blaine's popularity was more largely personal than McKinley's, and because it was so largely personal, he had a great many enemies as well as a great many enthusiastic friends. His comparative weakness was due to the fact that he did not represent any more than Harrison or Allison or other aspirants for the nomination, any particular idea to which the party was committed and in favor of which it was enthusiastic. It was only after the election of Harrison, and while he was Secretary of State, that his name became indissolubly linked with a great principle—that of reciprocity—which might have swept the country for him if it had been sooner formulated and sooner announced.

McKinley's popularity is not like Blaine's. It is not due so much to his personal magnetism or to his gifts as a popular orator. It is due largely to the fact that he represents, as no other man does represent, the great principle of protection, which has always been one of the cardinal doctrines of the Republican party.

Here in Colorado we regard the money question as the paramount question, and we think it ought to be the paramount issue in the coming campaign; but it is of no use for us to blink facts, and the fact is that the great masses of the Republican party throughout the Union regard the question of protection as the paramount issue. They see the fact that the country was prosperous under the McKinley tariff, and that just as soon as a Democratic President and Congress were elected in 1892, prosperity began to decline under the menace of a Democratic tariff, and that it has continued to decline under the actuality of a Democratic tariff. They see that the change from a revenue-producing tariff to a tariff which leaves a deficit every year has made it necessary for the government to issue bonds in order to pay the running expenses of the government. They see that so long as this deficit-producing tariff continues, the finances of the government will be disordered; and it is natural for them to believe that the first thing that ought to be done is the restoration of tariff duties that will not only protect American industries, but will bring in revenue enough to meet the current expenses of the government, and place it once more upon a solvent footing.

Out here in the West, we see or think we see, to be modest about it—that so long as the real standard of money in the United States is a gold standard, which is constantly appreciating in value, and until silver is restored to its rightful use as money of redemption, there can be no real and permanent prosperity. We believe that the tariff remedy, while it may be efficacious for a little while, cannot bring permanent prosperity until it is coupled with honest bimetallism. We expect the masses of the Republican party to see this as we do in a short time; but meantime, our best hope is in waiting until a majority of our party comes to that conclusion.

One of the fortunate things for McKinley, all through this preliminary campaign, has been in the enemies that he has made. The character of the opposition to him has made him many warm friends. And in nothing is he more fortunate than in the fact that of all the possible candidates who could be nominated on either side, he is less acceptable to the British than any others. Now we are not Anglophobists at all. There are many qualities of the British which we admire, and the American people have inherited from their British forefathers most of the great qualities which have made them what they are. But when British interests come in direct conflict with American interests, we are for the American interest every time.

According to the statements of the British papers, the Wilson-Gorman tariff has done more for Great Britain than any legislative measure ever passed. It has given a new lease of life to their manufactures; it has transferred millions of dollars worth of commerce from this country to that; it has given them a market for millions of dollars worth of their products, on which under the McKinley law they had to pay a tax to this government to get into this country. It is natural enough that they should look upon the endorsement of McKinley by the people of this country as a direct slap at British interests, and that they should view with alarm the prospect of an administration in this country which will be guided in its public acts by a regard for American interests, without regard to British interests at all.

If we were Britons, as we are Americans, we should look coldly too upon the nomination and probable election of McKinley. We should want America to come to a free trade basis as soon as possible, and should want the present American tariff continued, in order that the American treasury might have a deficit all the time, and British investors get an opportunity to get a greater hold on this country by buying up more American bonds. We don't blame the British at all; they are perfectly justified in opposing McKinley. From their point of view his election would be a great misfortune, but their point of view is not American; and the American people are looking at this thing from an American point of view.

Any other prominent Republican would stand for Americanism, in many ways, as well as McKinley; any other prominent Republican would pursue a foreign policy of which this country need not be ashamed; any other would give us a good, capable, clean administration; but no other is identified so closely as McKinley with that policy of protection which the majority of the party regards as the corner stone of the party creed.

That is the reason for the present popular movement in favor of McKinley—the only explanation that fits the facts.

KRUGER'S HOSTAGES.

It is peculiarly aggravating that the Uitlanders of the Transvaal, who really had grievances and possibly a cause for insurrection, should have to be tried in such dead earnest at Pretoria, while the arch criminal, Jameson, should be having a social picnic and what promises to be a farcical trial in London. His chief, Rhodes, is not being tried at all. It is the misdoings of these two unpunished hirelings of what should have been named "A Chartered Company for Conquering South Africa," which make the world forget temporarily that the reform committee at Johannesburg had a sound case in equity against the Boer government. One's admiration for the way in which the Boers are checkmating British plans for aggression swallows up all memory of their unjust treatment of outland interests. Among the prisoners it would appear from the dispatches that John Hayes Hammond and some others of the Americans had a specially good claim on the clemency of President Krueger. Of course after a man has pleaded guilty of high treason there is nothing more to be said on the technical side of the question. But if, as reported, Mr. Hammond backed out when he found that the plans of the "reformers" contemplated offering the Transvaal as a dainty morsel to the British lion, and if his example and influence was instrumental in bare-stringing the movement at Johannesburg to co-operate with Jameson, then it would seem that the Boer authorities might have grounds for dealing with him leniently.

The general situation in South Africa ought to teach England again that dishonesty is often a very bad policy. She has been winking hard at Cecil Rhodes and all his doings for many years. Her great moral and omniscient journal, W. T. Stead, has thrown the mantle of his charitable verbosity over the putative Napoleon, and every body has been "piping that he had ability enough to counter-balance his lack of principle, on the theory that the fat is all in the fire they sing to see that Rhodes's imperialism may not compensate for all his faults. England will in the end no doubt be benefactions must be to make mining investments in that country less secure and less desirable than they would otherwise way, but it will have to be at great strength and awkwardness, and a great many gratuitous difficulties have been thrown across her path by fair or common honesty.

One result of the South African complication will be. With rinderpest, Matabele, and probable war the path of the investor is bound to be thorny. Mining in Colorado in the later fifties was a comparatively safe and pleasant occupation, and to the present time there is no comparison to be made between the two sections. We have all the advantages and Africa has all the drawbacks.

DARK VS. DAYLIGHT.

Says The Engineering and Mining Journal:

"The policy of secrecy and myster in the mining business, which has led to many scandals and has done much injury to the mining industry, has already induced a fall of about 50 per cent in the 'Curbstone Stocks' in Boston. Eminently respectable Calumet and Hecla Mining company is largely responsible by its example, for the adoption of this policy by other companies. It is to be regretted that directors of mining companies appear to forget that they are simply trustees for their stockholders, owe to them a full and frequent reporting of the manner in which they have their trust."

The stand taken by The Engineering and Mining Journal is manifestly right and proper, although its contention regarding the suppression of facts is to but a very limited extent true. Officers of mining companies operating in Cripple Creek whose headquarters are not in this city. Hardly any of the more important and influential companies of Cripple Creek refuse to furnish information for publication regarding the condition of their properties. The reason, however, whose office is the great point of interest by the newspaper men in search of legitimate information will find that blank refuse to talk about the affairs of their companies, or else lose themselves in innuendoes endeavor to create an impression that something dishonest occurred or is about to take place.

A stockholder in a mining company has a good right to know the condition of the company and to be informed if anything is being done, or has been done, and the newspaper which honestly publishes this information is the servant of those interested.

There is one point which should always be borne in mind: that the reports which either furnish the stockholders with a report of its affairs or furnish information to the press, are not the pessimist and croaker, whose talks and spreading idle rumors, but this, that and the other, have simply one object in view, to create a certain condition of affairs favorable to a certain company or its officers.

If, as foreshadowed in recent dispatches, ex-Governor Waite will permit the use of his name as a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, he will be defeated at the convention by the Iowa delegation to which he will be defeated, he will be defeated by the Iowa delegation to which he will be defeated, he will be defeated by the Iowa delegation to which he will be defeated, he will be defeated

The Boy Hypnotist To-night.

Gunning, the boy hypnotist, who will begin his engagement of three nights at the Opera House this evening, is without doubt the youngest as well as the most successful hypnotist on the American stage to-day. One must not judge from the fact that he is called a boy that he is an unsophisticated youth, for such he is far from being. His manager had this to say about him: "Mr. Gunning claims that Schlatter, who set Denver wild, was a prince of hypnotists, but he put his hypnotic power to a much different use. The entertainment which will be presented will be both instructive and amusing instructive to those who wish to further investigate this mysterious science, which, by the way, is mysterious only because it is not better understood, for each evening different tests will be given for the benefit of the medical men. What could be more amusing than to see old men riding broom horses, catching fish out of the orchestra pit or taking the part of a bashful country girl, while younger men are made to believe they are someone else, and thus get off political speeches, dances, songs, jigs, or to nurse a rag doll or to love a broom-stick, besides dozens of other comical things? The prices of admission will be 25, 35 and 50 cents, including reserved seats.

A half crazy man with a big six-shooter caused quite a little excitement in Colorado City last evening. A man who goes by the name of "Mickey," and who keeps a cigar store on Colorado avenue, threatened to commit suicide and went into the cellar of the building adjoining the Hoffman house. Several would-be rescuers went down into the cellar to prevent the man from killing himself, and as they struck matches to locate him he began firing his pistol promiscuously at them, upon which they beat a hasty retreat. A second attempt resulted in the same way, after which the fire department was called on and the man was drowned out and captured and jailed, but later released. Mickey is the man who is supposed to have been cured of lameness by Schlatter.

Last evening a special car arrived in the city on the Rio Grande carrying a party of gentlemen who are connected with the Arkansas Valley Smelter company. In the party were Mr. H. A. True of Denver, J. H. Weddle of Leadville, C. E. Finney and C. H. Myer of Kansas City. Mr. Finney had charge of the party. They have been on a tour of inspection of the company's plants in this State and Mexico. They have been in Mexico and took a run up to Leadville. They left last evening for the East. They report that they found their plants in excellent condition and also their mines in Mexico. They are handling about all the silver ore they can treat just now, and that the outlook for the production of silver ore was very favorable for the coming summer.

The intercollegiate track athletics for the state championship will be the opening event of the new Roswell driving park. They occur on Saturday afternoon, May 23, and will be the biggest thing of the season. The teams of the State University, School of Mines, Agricultural College and Colorado College will contest for the championship.

An interesting programme has been prepared for the W. C. T. U. meeting which will be given in the First Methodist church Thursday at three o'clock. Mrs. J. B. Gregg will have charge of the devotional exercises, and an address will be given by Mrs. W. F. Slocum. A collection will be taken for the Cottage Home.

A meeting of the congregation of the Swedish missionary church will be held at 8 o'clock this evening. Reverends Hanson and Hofstet will preach.

Mr. Gandy would like to hear from any persons interested, at 317 East Monument street, or P. O. box 53.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liveryman and merchant of Goshen, Va has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him

MRS. O'LEARY'S COW'S PARDNER.

Jennie Larue Goes into History With the Chicago Kicker.

Jennie Larue had a quarrel with her lover. A gasoline stove was turned over. One-third of Cripple Creek was destroyed, $1,000,000 worth of property burned, and 300 people were rendered homeless.—(Denver Republican.

It is now believed that the Cripple Creek fire was of incendiary origin.—(Telegraph.

O, say is it true,
Jennie Larue,
That you
Madly threw
A gasoline stove at your lover, who flew?
Tell! Do!

Or, was it he who,
Jennie Larue,
To you
Is so true,
Set fire to some kerosined chips, that he strew,
And blew?

Now, give us a clew,
Jennie Larue!
Please do!
For we're blue;
And so is the whole blooming Cripple Creek crew.
That's true!

A fire, you well knew,
Jennie Larue,
Would do
Not a few
Of your friends for more than a dollar or two.
Hoodoo!

Then give us a clew,
Jennie Larue,
Why you,
Or he, who
Is your lover, should such a wretched thing do!
Won't you?

Or, let us construe,
Jennie Larue,
For you—
It's our due—
A motive for all this great hullaballoo!
This hue!

It's possibly true,
Jennie Larue,
That you,
To renew
The Chicago sensation of a decade or two,
Just threw!

Or, did you kick, too,
Jennie Larue?
—Cows do—
So that you
Might with Mrs. O'Leary in history go to—
Your due?

We'll bet our last blue,
Jennie Larue,
—Sly Jew!—
The scheme grew
Over night in that yellow-tressed head of you.
Bleached, too!

Now your name's stuck with glue,
JENNIE LARUE,
—That's you!—
Bar type, too—
On the tablets of fame, and among the first few.
That'll do.

How an Ingenious Fisherman Utilizes It in His Business.

"There are ingenious contrivances that do not find their way into the patent office," remarked a clerk in that department to a reporter. "I might also say, in the same connection, that there are men who seem to be able to turn almost anything to good account. I was thinking of a fisherman I know down on the Florida coast.

"A casual observer would see nothing remarkable about him, and a visit to his rude hut would give the impression that he was poor and shiftless. The principal thing that interested me when I happened to call at his house for a drink of water while hunting one day was the presence of two monster sea turtles, both alive.

"We started a conversation, the result of which was that I employed him to take me in a boat on a fishing expedition the following day.

"In the morning I called at his house, and he was ready. He held two stout leather thongs in his hand, one end of each being attached to a turtle. I was somewhat astonished when he started driving the sea reptiles ahead of us, but in reply to my questions he said, 'You'll see.'

"And I did. We entered the boat, and the turtles began to swim, drawing the boat through the water at a good rate of speed. The thongs were fastened to their necks, and he could guide them by simply turning their heads, exactly as he would horses.

"In about an hour we reached the fishing place, and, tying his turtles to a log on land, my companion proceeded to the business of the day. We went back, drawn by the turtles, in the same way." Washington Star.

Stabbed with a Hatpin.

A man was stabbed in the back of the right shoulder with a hatpin such as women use. The pin broke when the blow was inflicted, and only the head, with the upper part, could subsequently be found. The man suffered no inconvenience from the injury, and, this being the case, he thought no more of the matter. However, some months afterward he suffered a good deal from pain in his right shoulder, and this was ascribed to rheumatism. But no relief followed the treatment adopted, and it was not until some weeks had elapsed that the symptoms entirely passed away.

In the course of time he noticed a long, hard substance under the skin in the region of the lower part of the breast bone, which puzzled him greatly. Suddenly he chanced to think of the stab with the pin which he had received about a year previously, and then it occurred to him that the hard substance was the missing portion of the pin. He obtained the services of a surgeon, who cut down upon the foreign body and found it to be exactly as the man had supposed. The portion of the pin extracted was 2¾ inches in length and slightly bent in the middle. Chambers' Journal.

Mines, Stocks, Investments

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, May 20.—Lower prices were much in evidence at the Exchange this morning, but no serious breaks took place. Selling orders were far more numerous than buying orders, and the natural result could not be other than lower quotations for the major part of the stocks. A few exceptions are noted, and in these cases the stocks were stronger and higher, the greatest advance being made in Portland, which opened at 1.65—4 cents higher than yesterday's closing figures. Before the close of the session the stock made another spurt to 1.72, at which figure the final sale was made. Isabella was a good trader and had sales of 10,000 shares. The opening figures showed no change from those that ruled at the close yesterday, but later an advance of ¼ to 55 ock place, after which a slight recession took place. The stock reacted at the took place. The stock reacted a the close to 55. Work, Mt. Rosa and Jack Pot were good sellers at unchanged prices. Arcadia had sales of 10,000 shares at a loss from yesterday. Union was the feature of the day as far as being the heaviest trader and sustaining the greatest loss is concerned. The stock opened ½ lower at 35, and under pressure of heavy selling orders lost another ¼ to 37½, and later went to 37⅝, after which it slowly recovered to 37¾, where it closed. Argentum-Juniata, Stamped Isabella and Ben Hur were lower. Magnet Rock gained ⅛ with sales of 5000 shares. The general market closed uneasy and weaker.

Mary McKinney.

Messrs. Morrison and associates who have a lease on the Mary McKinney on Gold hill and one of the properties of the Mary McKinney company, will resume work by the end of this week. They have already sunk a shaft to a distance of 50 feet, and done about 50 feet of drifting, and have arrived at the intersection of the Lincoln and Morning Glory veins. The lessees propose to sink at this intersection in the hopes of getting a good body of pay ore. The property is equipped with a steam hoist.

A New District.

Mr. W. R. Benzie, who has been spending some time at Deer Creek, or Old Riley Peak, in Jefferson county, has returned to this city to recuperate his health. Mr. Benzie says the district is a large one, and has many fine indications of pay ore. He and his associates have secured control of an entire hill which is heavily mineralized. Several shafts have been sunk on the properties and a strong lead assaying about $20 has been exposed. A tunnel is now being driven to cut this vein at a depth of about 400 feet. Good progress is being made on the tunnel. The ore in this district is free milling and a stamp mill is now being put in further down Canada gulch. The new district is either reached by stage from Littleton or from Dawson station, on the South Park road.

Mean Business.

The officers of the Ben Hur company yesterday afternoon received a letter from a well known mining man at Cripple Creek asking for a lease on lot No. 4, of the Queen lode, located on Gold hill, near the New Moon mine. The writer says that he will guarantee to secure shipping ore within 60 days, or forfeit his lease. If shipping ore is encountered within this period, the lease is to run for six months, and then the company is to grant an extension of one year on condition that the writer sink a shaft 400 feet deep. The party desiring this lease is well known to the officers of the company, who have considerable faith in the man's ability, and that the lease will be granted goes without saying.

Buying Supplies Here.

Mr. Thomas T. Goodale of Boston, Mass., president of the Taylor Park Mining company, together with Manager Hank Watson, are now in this city buying a stock of supplies for that property for the coming season. They expect to spend several thousand dollars here, and say they can buy as cheaply as in Denver. The Taylor Park company owns over 3,000 acres of patented placer mining ground in the north end of Gunnison county, just over the range from Granite. The scouring and patenting of this ground has been under way for several years, and now that titles, etc., are complete, the company has started operations on a large scale. Thirty-five men, mostly from Colorado Springs, are now working there, and more will be sent down in a short time. This placer ground has been carefully tested, and will yield about 25 cents in gold per cubic yard. The cost of treatment of this ground, owing to favorable natural conditions, is only from 3 to 5 cents per cubic yard. There is an abundance of water and ditches are now being constructed which will carry the water to the sluice boxes.

THE NELLIE V.

Last Car of Ore from This Mine Went $1,000.

The lessees on the Nellie V., on Squaw mountain, have just received smelter returns from another car load of ore sent to Pueblo, which ran $160 per ton, or about $1,000 for the entire car. Two more cars are now at Pueblo awaiting treatment. The lessees are still drifting and doing a large amount of stoping. The ore chute has been drifted on a distance of over 250 feet and its limits are not yet reached, making it one of the longest chutes in the district. As drifting on the chute continues southward, the ore body becomes larger and richer. At the expiration of the present lease on this property June 1, the owners propose to develop the mine in a systematic manner. The present shaft, which is now down 143 feet, will be sunk to a depth of 200 feet, at which point the next level will be run. No stoping will be done during June, and only such ore as comes from actual development work will be shipped. The owners have already purchased the plant of machinery now being operated by the lessees and propose to make the Nellie V. one of the best mines in the camp.

Getting Into Shape.

The Goldstone company has now secured patents for three of its claims—the Baby, on Bull hill, containing over nine acres; the Delphnia, at the head of Poverty Gulch, and near the Ben Franklin, six acres, and the Guess lode, on Gold hill, about five acres. The company has instructed Mr. L. E. Sherman to go ahead and see what, if anything, can be saved out of the company's Mineral hill ground. Owing to mismanagement on the part of former officers of the company, a good deal of very valuable ground was lost, and it was only by the hardest kind of work and personal sacrifices on the part of the present officers, that the company was able to save as much land as it did. A careful investigation of the books shows that the company still has quite a block of treasury stock on hand, but no cash.

RICH ASSAYS REPORTED.

The Bare Hills Promise to Develop Some Mines.

Bare Hills City, Colo., May 20.—Several prospects on the south side of the district are looking unusually well. In the neighborhood of Espinosa gulch some promising leads have been uncovered and work has been commenced on two shafts that will go down at least 100 feet. These locations are south and east of the New York lead and their vein matter is of a different nature, being a decomposed granite quartz with andesite and phonolite for the country rock. Assays at the surface run from $2 to $4, ranging as high as $8 and $12 at ten feet. This section of the district has received considerable attention of late and from the fact that solid formation is reached at shallow depths, prospecting has been comparatively easy and progress correspondingly rapid. The strike of these leads is southwest and southeast, running directly towards Big Baldy, the volcanic center of the Bare hills, and crossing the New York at right angles. This locality is noted on the government geological map as being strictly andesitic, and for that reason more attention has been paid to prospecting in the andesitic-breccia and tuff that lies to the north and west, but these late developments have shown that it is likely to produce pay ore as soon as any other part of the district. No one doubts that the greatest mines will eventually be developed further up in the hills in the true eruptive region closest to its center, but there the wash is so deep that it takes capital to prospect and the poor man stands little chance. In the outlying regions where the igneous flow meets the surrounding granite the poor prospector has a better show, as the wash is shallow and the contacts easily located, therefore it is in these localities where most of the work is being done at present. Several assays recently secured in these sections on the south and east of the district show ore with values that will pay to ship and leave a small margin taken from ten feet and less in depth. Preparations are being made to sink on three or four of these veins, and with the amount of work that will be done it is thought a trial shipment will be made in about two weeks.

It is known as a fact that several rich assays have been taken within the last ten days from prospects in this district, but the parties being desirous to do the required amount of work and patent their claims as soon as possible, have requested that no publicity be given in order to avoid as much as possible adverse litigation, which would be sure to occur were the values given out. In one case in particular at the assay office here, the button from a sample taken from a ten-foot hole, not far from Bare Hills City, showed a value of over $700.

A wedding is announced for the coming Wednesday evening which will no doubt be celebrated in a manner becoming the first event of the kind in the Bare hills. The contracting parties are a prominent business man and one of the most charming daughters of this embryo mining town.

No Extension Granted.

The Mt. Rosa company deny the statement printed in yesterday morning's Republican to the effect that that company had agreed to grant the Adams company an extension on their bond and lease on the Adams lode, lying just south of the famous Strong mine at Victor. The Mt. Rosa people will not agree to an extension unless the amount named in the present bond is increased at least $10,000. The Adams is being developed by three sub-lessees, who, it is said, are really the parties who wish an extension. The Adams company stands ready to pay the bond when it falls due.

THREE DOLLARS PER YARD.

That is Said to Be the Contents of Mineral Ground in Alaska.

Port Townsend, Wash., May 20.—The steam schooner Albion, Captain Lundquist, who recently took a party of tourists and miners from San Francisco to Cook inlet, Alaska, arrived from the north on her return trip last night. H. Pennock, who was one of the directors and moving spirits of the Excelsior party, is enthusiastic at the luck he met with in the north, and came back to civilization to purchase sufficient supplies to keep the party at Coal bay for a couple of years.

"As to the other sections of the country," said Mr. Pennock, "I have nothing to say. But if we have not struck a patch that will put the famous Comstock wealth in the shade, then I miss my reckoning. We have located a limitless number of prospects, and if there is a square yard of earth within its boundaries that will not yield a dollar, then I'll confess, to an untruth and give the fellow who catches me $1,000. The mountain has been figured out to pan $3 to the square yard, and we have miles and miles of it in our own. That the entire country is rich, there is not the slightest doubt, but a man to go in there must take his chances, and should not think of venturing without first providing himself with a first-class outfit, together with sufficient ready money to maintain himself while there, and what is more important, to pay his fare home again should he not meet with good luck. In the Cook Inlet country it is the same as any business venture. Everyone cannot succeed, and every man should provide himself against possible failure."

Current Notes.

The Rigi shafthouse will soon be completed. The framing is about finished.

The work of moving the machinery to shaft No. 4 on the Last Dollar has commenced.

The Chance, on Globe hill, shows considerable low grade ore in a granite vein at a depth of 100 feet. It belongs to the Mobile company.

A four-inch vein of tellurium yielding over $7,000 to the ton is reported on Ironclad hill. The location of the strike will be made public in a few days.

The Wolcott lease on the Emma has come upon rich ore in the shaft and will put three shifts to sinking at once. The ore goes as high as $100 to the ton.

The Damon company has given another lease on a block of its ground to R. M. Fuller, to prospect the surface. Four sets of lessees are now working on the group.

Another shipment of smelting ore, the third in the life of the property, will be sent out from the Blue Jay by the end of the week. The ore comes from the 200-foot depth.

The Ironclad has some ore at 150 feet that is permeated with gold in chunks and is shipping sacked ore daily. The owners are reticent and no more particulars can be given.

The Portland received its new air compressor yesterday, making the last of the new machinery plant to arrive. Four broad gauge car loads were shipped from the mine yesterday.

The Magnolia, which has been working under contract for some time was started up yesterday by the company. Crosscuts will be run to catch a vein. The shaft is 120 feet deep.

The vein which was encountered in the Electric tunnel at 335 feet is to be thoroughly prospected. Work started yesterday on it. This tunnel is in 375 feet and is being pushed ahead.

The new machinery for the Lucky Gus is being put in place and the property will be in first class running order in a short time. It is the purpose of the English owners to make it one of the big mines of Bull hill.

The Jubilee mine, on Globe hill, has intersected a new vein at the 50-foot point by means of a 25-foot cross-cut. The shaft has been sunk 160 feet. The whole of the cross-cut was mineralized, but too low grade to be of value.

Superintendent Campbell of the Los Angeles will have the shaft timbered and will begin sinking to-morrow. Three shifts will be put to work and the shaft which is now down 160 feet will be sunk as rapidly as possible. New machinery is to be put on immediately.

The Grotto company started yesterday from the bottom of the 200-foot shaft to cross-cut for the vein which was left 40 feet above. It is thought that the vein will be encountered within 20 feet. When the shaft went through the vein at 160 feet some high grade ore was taken out.

A contract was let yesterday for a 200-foot shaft on Cranks and Cranks No. 2, owned by J. F. Brady and other Chicago parties. The owners propose to work the property mine fashion and the shaft will be a radical one of two compartments.

A good strike is reported on the Apex on Battle mountain, belonging to the Ajax company. From a portion of the vein assays have been obtained as high as $340 to the ton. The Apex is one of a group of claims owned by the company.

The Empire State company is getting into low grade ore in its 50-foot shaft on the Norfolk, lying between the Pride of Cripple Creek and the Damon group on the north slope of Bull hill. A wide vein has been opened and assays as high as $15 are had.

A contract for 450 feet of tunneling has been let by the Phonolite Deep Mining and Tunnel company and work will be pushed. The work is intended to develop a group on Cow mountain owned by the company, and 50 feet of tunneling has been done.

R. S. Grant, who met with big success in the Mattie L. lease, has taken a lease on the north end of the Coriolanus, on Battle mountain, and will begin work at once. Mr. Grant left camp for his home in Chicago several weeks ago and now returns to start after another Mattie L.

The Empress of Japan company, which recently started in developing a group of properties lying at the head of Myers avenue, in the town of Cripple Creek, will complete 100 feet of work the last of this week and will then pay attention to exploiting the vein with drifts running both north and south.

Mr. W. H. Tuttle has returned from a trip to Hahn's Peak, where he went to investigate the mines. He came back disgusted. He says it is the hardest trip that ever a man took and that the results of the mining are discouraging. Assays from specimens brought back show silver, but very little gold.

The Mattie L., on Gold hill, owned by the Jefferson company, is shipping about 10 tons per day of ore which averages from $100 to $150 per ton. Only one stope is being worked at present, but in the course of a week or two three stopes will be at work. A new hoist has recently been added. The company employs 43 men.

The Keystone is under lease and bond to Messrs. Forleman and Smith, who made an important strike during the past week. The property has been under lease and bond for 12 months, but the lessees refused to take the bond up, and the present lessees in driving less than two feet found the phonolite dyke which carries both gold and tellurium.

The Trail, which is located on Bull hill, is being actively worked by a Mr. Perry of Denver, who employs 35 men, all of whom are engaged in development work. Steam drills are being used in the sinking of the shaft. The object is to keep the work well pushed ahead, until communication is effected with a certain shaft, when large shipments will be made regularly.

The Midget, which for some time has devoted all its work to exploring the territory, will begin regular shipments this week. The property is owned by John Hibnon and others of the Portland, who are reticent as to what has been found, but it is understood the recent strike is one of big proportions and will greatly increase the ouput of Gold hill. The shaft is 300 feet deep.

An eight-inch vein of $20 ore is the claim J. Ridgeley makes for his Sunday's strike on the Guess, which he is working under lease. Ridgeley got into the ore with a 25-foot cross-cut from the bottom of a 60-foot shaft. The vein had been cut on the incline at a depth of 50 feet, and several tons of $32 ore were shipped. Mr. Ridgeley immediately sub-leased to the Home Run company. The claim is on Squaw mountain.

A large section of the southern slope of Big Bull mountain is being developed by the Alliance Gold Mining and Milling company, formed of a syndicate of Germans living in Alliance, O. A steam plant is in operation on the Kentucky, and bodies of low grade ore have been opened up in that property and the Snow Flake location. Twenty claims are being patented by the company, and there is apparently no lack of capital with which to develop them all.

The Minnie Lou, near the top of Ironclad hill, owned by the Pilgrim Mining company, is to have a double friction engine and hoister capable of operating at a depth of 800 feet, in place of the rented engine now in use. The shaft is at a depth of 150 feet and the miners are drifting under a vein which was encountered on the way down. This mine has not shipped since 1892, when the ore from another shaft realized $50 per ton. Shipments will be resumed in a short time.

Beacon hill is to be thoroughly prospected with a diamond drill. The Bonanza company which is made up of ticket brokers from all over the country, yesterday let a contract for 1000 feet of boring to a Kansas City company and the machinery will be unloaded at Anaconda to-day. The work will be in charge of Henry Parker, and the first hole will be sunk on the Henry Adney, the claim Clabe Jones has been working for six months. It lies on the west side of Beacon hill.

Red mountain, lying north of Spring creek and about four miles from Cripple Creek, has a property that has produced some ore of a galena character, different from that usually found in the Cripple Crek district. Miners say that the lead-bearing veins of that section testify to an older mineral formation existing in this section, previous to the eruptive action which led to the deposition of the gold-bearing ore, peculiar to the recognized belt. The galena property in that section has produced some ore of pay grade and the company owning it is now preparing a plant of machinery and will work it for a mine.

The Queen lode, on Gold hill, belonging to the Ben Hur company, has been secured under a year's lease by the Geraldine Mining and Investment company, and the latter has erected a gallows frame and begun the excavation for a new shafthouse 20x30. A new steam plant arrived yesterday and will be installed as rapidly as work can be done. The old shaft on the ground was down 60 feet and this is being enlarged to a 3½x7 in the clear and re-timbered. A good vein was opened in the old shaft. It was the purpose of the parties to the new lease to sink the shaft to the depth of 400 feet. J. W. Pender is president of the new company and Lewis Cline is on the ground overseeing the work.

Mines, Stocks, Investments

Colorado Springs Board of Trad and Mining Exchange.

Colorado Springs, May 20.—With the solitary exception of Portland, the market at the Board this morning was one of weakness and timidity. Buyers were few and far between, and the prices bid for stocks were considerably below those of the day preceding. Portland was quoted higher, but had no transfers. Garfield Grouse had sales of 3000 shares at yesterday's figures, and Isabella came in for 2000 shares at from 55 to 55¢. Stamped Isabella remained unchanged. Bankers was lower with transactions of 1000 at from 12 to 13¾ asked. Union and Work were both lower. In the prospective mines Buckhorn and Squaw Mountain were the heavy sellers, the former figuring for 11,000 shares at 3 to 3¼, and the latter for the same amount at 1¾ and 2. Other stocks dealt in in this list were Creede and Cripple Creek, Jack Pot and Pappoose. In the prospects, Golden Treasure had sales of 11,000 shares, and Bonanza King 1000 shares. Nothing worthy of mention was accomplished in the miscellaneous list. The market closed weak.

WEEKLY LETTER EXTRACTS.

The following is culled from the weekly letter of Messrs. Carnduff & Rusch:

"With the exception of Portland there has been little change in the market, although a somewhat stronger feeling prevails. The resumption of dividends by the Portland company has caused an advance of 15 cents from last week's quotations. As no dividend was expected this month, 1 cent comes as a surprise and increases the confidence in the company's ability to double or treble the amount as soon as the new plant of machinery is in successful operation. Dividends exceeding $100,000 will be paid from put is growing larger. Last month's returns from the Isabella mine aggregated $56 000 which, after paying working expenses and a 1-cent dividend, leaves a large addition to the treasury surplus. At their present price, Isabella and Portland appear to be the most attractive mining investments in the camp, and we look for an advance even during the dull summer months. Union gained 1 cent during this week, the excellent showing of the mine indicates a continuance of dividends and the stock seems quite worth its present price."

The following is taken from the weekly letter of Messrs Clarence Edsall & Co:

"In view of the numerous inquiries received by the secretary of our local Exchange we have been requested to publish the following notice:

"To reach Cripple Creek, travelers should come directly to Colorado Springs (where the hotels are unexcelled), from where they can visit Cripple Creek and return the same day, or they can take a Pullman sleeper at Colorado Springs spend the night in the car the day in camp, and return by Pullman. The leading operators in mines and stocks, the leading mining exchange also the offices of the principal mines of the camp are located at Colorado Springs.

"With the Elkton dividend of 1 cent a share, which has just been declared a change at our dividend table will show that nine companies will distribute $427,919 during this month to their respective stockholders. This is a point of interest in view of the much talked of 'collapse of Cripple Creek.'

"Several new companies will be listed with the Exchange during the coming week, the most important of these being Elkton Consolidated, Gould and Thompson.

"The new hoisting plant on the Portland is now in operation and ore is again being hoisted from the Burns shaft. The capacity of this machinery is sufficient to hoist every ton of ore produced daily in the Cripple Creek district, if it were lifted through a single shaft. The engine is guaranteed to hoist one ton of ore 1000 feet in a minute, and no additional power will be necessary until the Portland shaft has reached a depth of at least 5000 feet."

Messrs. J. McK Ferriday & Co., in their last weekly letter, say:

"The resumption of dividends by the Portland company, although only 1 cent per share, had a good effect, not only on this stock but on the market in general. Rumors have it that the July dividend will be at least 3 cents a share and an increase to 5 cents may be expected.

"Isabella declared its usual dividend of 1 cent per share, this company is in splendid shape and from all accounts may increase its dividend to 2 cents before many months pass. Our advice, which was to buy this stock, seems to have been correct from its advance during the past week. We still think that at present figures it will show a good profit to those investing in it.

"The Work company held its annual meeting on the 8th inst., and the report of the president shows the company to be in excellent condition. This report being too lengthy for publication, we shall be pleased to mail it on request.

"The Mollie Gibson has cleared the eleventh level from the water that came from the Free Silver, and has shipped three cars of rock from the recent find made in an upraise between the eleventh and twelfth levels. The ore went to Denver without sorting and from reliable authority it is understood that in this condition it averages between 250 and 300 ounces to the ton."

EASTERN MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 20.—Money on call easy at 2@2½ per cent; last loan at 2½, and closing offered at 2½. Prime mercantile paper 5@6½ per cent. Bar silver 64. Mexican dollars 52. Sterling exchange was firm with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 87½@4 87¾ for 60 days, and $4 89@4 89¼ for demand. Posted rates $4 87@4 89½. Commercial bills $4 86¾@4 87¼.

Government bonds steady. State bonds neglected. Railroad bonds steady. Silver at the board was dull.

Stocks were intensely dull to-day except for Sugar. Total sales of stocks were 119,350 shares. Sugar ruled weak until just near the close, when it suddenly spurted 2¾ to 123¾. The early weakness was due to short selling by local bears, who professed to be greatly disturbed by the further reduction of ½ in the price of refined and the report of poor trade conditions. At the decline, however, one Broadway concern, which usually trades for the leading operators, purchased nearly 5 000 shares of the stock and this started buying for both accounts. The rapidity of the advance alarmed the shorts and on their efforts to cover they bid prices up on themselves. The railway list during the morning session was steady to firm, but subsequently the market displayed weakness and then drifted into dullness. London was a moderate seller of certain stocks, but bought a few bonds. The engagement of $500,000 gold for shipment to Europe to-morrow and the belief that further amounts will be forwarded Saturday, was offset by semi-official statements that Mr. Morgan has placed important blocks of railway bonds in London.

Bonds were quiet and firm.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, May 20.—Shorts and bad crop reports from some winter wheat states, notably Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, gave wheat prices assistance to-day. The firmness referred to came after a rather easy opening which was due to predictions of showers throughout the entire western country. The bears are disposed to proceed with a certain degree of caution and on any unusual amount of crop damage stories take no chances but cover without questioning the accuracy or veracity of the information. This seemed to be the case this morning, but it was evident also that very little investment buying took place.

Corn was, as customary, neighborly in its action, accepting the lead of wheat as its governing motive. It is not expected that this grain will assert its independence until the new crop becomes a matter of concern. The amount of business transacted to-day was neither greater or less than the average of the session was an ordinary one. Receipts were 151 cars and 287 bushels were withdrawn from store. Liverpool cables were quiet. Export clearances amounted to 256 bushels. July corn opened at 29½, sold at 29¾, closing at the latter, a shade over yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 350 cars.
